There's power in women coming together

Lean In Circles are small groups that meet regularly for leadership skill building, peer-to-peer mentorship, and support. Start a Circle alongside like-minded women and explore The Women at Work Collection—our new leadership training program. The research-backed curriculum can help you overcome self-doubt, become a transformational leader, and learn critical professional development skills.

Our mission is to empower all women to achieve their ambitions, one Circle at a time.
